

WOVEN ART JEWELLERY

Woven and crocheted silver jewellery with a Celtic twist ... handmade in the UK

How to Calculate Your Bangle Size

Inside diameter inches	Inside diameter cm	Equivalent circumference inches	Equivalent circumference cm
2.13	5.40	6.67	16.94
2.25	5.72	7.06	17.96
2.38	6.03	7.46	18.95
2.50	6.35	7.85	19.94
2.63	6.67	8.24	20.93
2.75	6.99	8.64	21.95
2.88	7.30	9.03	22.94
3.00	7.62	9.42	23.93

A) Measure A Bangle that You Already Own and Fits Well

Measure the inside diameter of the bangle with a ruler and then look at the equivalent circumference above.

B) Measure Your Hand

1. Make your hand as small as possible, as if you were putting on a bangle, bringing your thumb and little finger together in your palm.
2. Using a tape measure, (or a long strip of paper) measure around your hand at the widest point (usually around your knuckles) making sure the tape measure/strip of paper is pulled tight. Make a note of this measurement (which will be the actual circumference of your hand) or, if using paper, make a mark where the paper meets, then measure the length of the paper with your ruler to get your hand circumference.
3. Compare your hand circumference to the bangle circumference in the above chart. it is usually best to buy a bangle which is slightly bigger than your actual hand measurement so the bangle is comfortable, but not so big that it will slip easily over your hand and fall off.